

C-type distributed photovoltaic bracket accessories

Overview

Photovoltaic bracket C-purlin is a type of cold-formed steel, manufactured by cold-bending steel plates or strips. It is primarily used in photovoltaic brackets. Shaped similarly to the letter "C," it consists of three main parts: an upper flange, a web, and a lower flange. The function of the bracket is to protect the photovoltaic modules to withstand 30 years of damage such as sunlight, corrosion, and strong winds.

Professional product design makes the solar photovoltaic support system can be assembled with only a few accessories, no other drilling or welding is. Tianjin Wenli New Energy Technology Co., abbreviated as "Tianjin Wenli", was established in 2012 and is located in the Daqiu Zhuang Industrial Development Zone, a steel base in Tianjin. It covers an area of 46,000 square meters and has a construction area of 35,000 square meters. These brackets, crafted from robust materials such as steel, aluminium, or magnesium alloys, provide unmatched load-bearing capacity. What is the C type of photovoltaic bracket accessories?
