

Household lithium battery isolation

Overview

Ign: This stands for 'Ignition' and needs to tap into a circuit that has 12v power when your vehicle is on. One way to determine where to attach this is to use your multimeter; set to DC volts, OR a test light and connect. Gnd: This stands for 'Ground' and simply goes to a ground point on the metal chassis of your vehicle. This can be on the body near the Li-BIM or it can be run all the way back to a neg. Sig: This stands for 'Signal' and is simply a ground wire with a momentary switch wired in line. You will want to mount the momentary switch near your steering wheel so you can react. From these studs, you'll run a wire to both your house battery bank (Batt Coach) and your Starting Battery (Batt Chassis). You'll need a 5/16" lug to connect these wires to the Li-BIM. On th. To determine the gauge of wire and the amperage of fuse you will need on each of these wires, you'll need the following two pieces of information. 1. Alternator Size (Amps) 2. Distance.
